From its inception in 1988, an unswerving commitment to outstanding customer care coupled with an abundance of technical expertise has ensured consistent growth for our company. Operating from two modern industrial facilities, we are ideally situated to service customers across the UK. Our Rhyl branch is positioned right in the middle of the North Wales coast, whilst our Deeside branch is just a few miles from the M56 / M6 junction in the centre of the country.

Our customers range from multi-national organisations in the offshore, construction, manufacturing, engineering and utility industries, through to individual trades professionals catered for at our busy trade counters. We are proud of our association with many of the UK's largest universities, councils and emergency services who have trusted us as a preferred supplier for many years.

Our product range has evolved in line with our growth over the years, and is competitively priced, ethically sourced from leading brands, and backed by comprehensive warranties.
